IN MEMORY OF LITTLE

R. B. LUMPKIN, The eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lumpkin of Dalton S. C. C. Sarborn.

Daer R. B. thy gentle voice is hushed And on thy pale and peaceful face, Is resting deaths cold and chills, Thy bands are clasped upon thy breast,

We have kissest thy marble brow. And in our aching haerts we know, We can see his smiles no more,

One precious to our hearts has gone, The voice we loved is stilled. The place made vacant in our homes, Can never more be filled.

The boon his love had given, And though in earth the body lies, The soul is safe in Heaven.

Though all pains at tmes be'd smile, And when the angles called him home,

He smiled farewell to earth, Heaven retaineth now our treasure, Earin to lonely casket keeps, And the sunbeam lengs to linger,

Where our darling R. B. sleeps. Asleep in Jeans blessed sleep, From which none other wake to weep, A calm and undisturbed repose, Unbroken by the last of foer, Asleep in Jesuss far from thee, .. Thy kindred in their graves may be, But thine is still a blessed sleep, From which none ever wakes to weep.

Peacful be thy silent slumber. Peacful in thy grave so low. (1) Be it resolved that the colored Thon no more will join our number, Thon no more our sorrows know, Yet again we hope to meet thee,

When the day of llife is flid, And in Heaven with joy to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed,

Farewell darling, Farewell dear, Peacfull be thy sitent resst, Sulmber saweetly, God knew best, When to call thee to rest,

We must say our last carewil, Till we meet beyond the river, Happy there with thee to dwell,

May the loved ones left behind feel there is a tenderer chord than ever before to draw them nearer to Jesus and may they trive to meet little R B. in Heaven.
